TUESDAY EVENING. MAR. 26, 1895.

SINCE THE Gorman tariff bill went into operation English merchants have been importing manufactures from this much as if such articles can not only be made here as well as any where else, sold to English merchants at lower rates than to those at home, as was the case even under a higher tariff. With free trade, so that American products sold abroad could be paid for with the plentiful products of other countries, instead of, as now, with scarce gold, American manufactures would soon stock all the markets of the world.

THE New Orleans strikers, now that they have failed, like those every where else in similar circumstances, plead that they be not held accountable for the resultant violence and bloodshed, which, they say, was committed by uncontrolable sympathizers. Such a plea holds no better with them than with others who have done as they have. Under the laws of this country, every man has the right to earn his bread by the sweat of his face, and those who attempt to interfere with that right, and they alone, are responsible for the consequences.

A DISPATCH from Richmond, on the 18th inst., stated that at a banquet in that city the day before, Governor O'Ferrall responded to the toast, "Our Southland," and that the "audience went wild over him, and when he had concluded some one said : 'He shall be our next Senator.' At this the applause broke out afresh and three rousing cheers proposed for 'our next Senator' were heartily given." There is no doubt of the fact that the Governor has his heart set on Senator Daniel's seat, and that he will have many supporters is equally as plain.

THE PLAN of supplying tramps with food and shelter, in exchange for work on street improvements, has been adopted in many cities, with satisfactory results, abating considerably the tramp nuisance, and bettering in equal degree the condition of the streets. As an experiment, suppose it be tried burning of cars, with the derailment of here. Some of the streets are in sore trains, with the destruction of signal need of improvement, and as the required material is at hand, all that is requisite is the necessary labor. The which many were killed and many more wounded, with howling and ends of some of the streets would afort excellent testing grounds.

THE PRICE of iron ore and coke has recently advanced, which, of course, implies a consequent rise in the price of the manufactured product. But such a rise finds Mr. Carnegie with an enormous supply of both the raw materials tion; unless it be true that men can make vehement appeals for somereferred to on hand. Mr. Carnegie could have well afforded to pay the fine imposed upon him by the Navy Department for cheating the government with fraudulent armor plate, and the President need not have reduced that fine by nearly two-thirds.

THE LATEST explanation of the Governor's most recent inroad upon the manners and customs of the executive mansion at Richmond, is that made by to go unwhipped of justice because the State of that city, which says he of loud mouthed professions of virthe State of that city, which says he was so badly "rattled" that he "lost his head." Under the circumstances, this is hardly plausible, but it is unquestionably the best for the Governor that has yet been offered.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY is reported as saying that he will withdraw from the republican party if it shall declare for silver. As that party is for success, irrespective of principles, and as the silverites are certainly more numerous now than they have been, present appearances indicate the probability of the telegraph and telephone, but the Governor's withdrawal-that is if he be sincere.

A GIRL SHOT .- Lillian Spooner, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Cassius M. C. Spooner, a clerk in the sixth auditor's office, was shot through the leg in Washington yesterday afternoon by a bullet from a pistol in the hands of Henry Roberts, a seventeen-year-old boy. Miss Spooner was standing on the sidewalk talking to several girls when the boy rode by on a bicycle. As he passed he drew a revolver and fired four shots at the pavement, evidently trying to frighten them. One of the bullets rebounded, striking Miss Spooner, inflicting a serious, but not necessarily dangerous, wound.

THE CONFERENCE.

Arrangements have been completed by members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in Washington for the entertainment of the 250 delegates to the one hundred and eleventh annual meeting of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which will begin in that city tomorrow at Mount Vernon Place Church, Rev. Dr. I. W. Canter, pastor, and continue for seven or eight days.

The conference will open to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. Bishop Granberry and the presiding elders are to held a preliminary meeting this even-ing. The annual sermon will be ing. The annual sermon will be preached Wednesday evening at eight o'clock by Rev. S. K. Cox, of Front Royal. The ordination of elders and end Tuesday evening April 2.

The Mt. Vernon Place choir of thirty-one voices, under the direction of Mr. Geo. W. Lawrence, is preparing a fine programme of music to be rendered during the conference.

THE GROOM DIDN'T COME.-One of the belles of Slatington, Pa., pretty Miss Maggie Morris, is not a bride, as she and her friends expected her to be. The wedding was to have taken place last Saturday night, but Benjamin Sow-

Sowder had been courting the girl since she was 13 years old, and so eager was he, apparently, that the wedding should take place that he procured the necessary marriage license several weeks in advance. A number of friends of the couple were invited to witness the ceremony, and the affair was to be one of unusual gayety. The bride had purchased an elegant wedding outfit, and, as the officiating clergyman and the guests arrived, she greeted them all grocery, which her father kept. She in the most cheerful manner. As the went into the room above the store time for the ceremony approached, however, and the bridegroom had not appeared, some concern was manifest-Finally messengers were sent out news that Sowder had left town early for their homes, and the wedding feast remained untouched. Miss Morris, who is one of the most popular young ginia, and her family believe she has ladies in Slatington, is well-nigh heartbroken.

> LAUNCH POSTPONED .- As stated in vesterday's GAZETTE, the huge American Line steamship St. Paul, which was to have been launched on that day, is still high and dry on the ways at Cramps' shipyard. The best efforts of 250 stalwart men, supplemented by powerful hydraulic jacks, failed to move her at the appointed time, and finally 20 000 spectators were grievously disappointed. Every force known to experienced shipbuilders was exerted, but the great mass of iron and steel stubbornly refused to budge, and, when the tide had fallen so far as to make any further effort impossible, the deeply-chagrined builders were com-pelled to abandon the attempt and announce an indefinite postponement. The inferior tallow used on the ways became hardened and prevented the launch. The "patent plate matter" papers in Virginia and elsewhere that announced the launch yesterday were hadly "caught" in so doing.

A MURDERER BAPTIZED.-Morris Hopkins, the negro who is to die on the gallows April 3d for the murder of Harry S. Parsons, was baptized vesterday. Rebellious Young Women. CHICAGO, Mar. 26 .- Pandemonium again reigned all day yesterday at the Home for Juvenile Offenders. The cause of the excitement was the return of five original rioters after a two weeks' incarceration at the Harrison street annex. As they left the transfer wagon the girls set up a shout which could be heard blocks away. At once a crowd began to collect and 500 persons soon surrounded the building. The girls refused to go into the building voluntarily and swore that if they were taken inside they would burn down the place. The police were compelled to literally drag them up the steps. On gaining the hallways the officers released their charges, and they at once began to tear madly up and down the corridors making a terrible uproar. The rest of the girls refused to go back to work or to the classes, and in many cases struck the matrons. They became so demonstrative that some of them were locked in their Morganfield's Crutches. FREDERICKSRURG, Mar. 26.—Judge L. W. Wallace, of the Corporation Court of this city, on the statement of the jail physician, Dr. H. M. D. Martin that Morganfield, the train robber, did not need crutches, declined to allow them to him on the ground that he might do some harm to the guards. Recently Morganfield's coun-sel obtained from the physician a certificate that Morganfield did need crutches and from Judge Ashton an order to the city sergeant to supply them, whereupon Judge Wallace issued a rule against Dr. Martin to show cause why he should not be fined for contempt of court. The rule is returnable and will be heard to-morrow.
